

Replacing Kitchen Cupboard Doors by Expert Fitters

17th July, 2013 | Published by Kitchen Restoration

If your kitchen is looking past its best and well-meaning visitors are starting to comment on the interesting 'shabby chic' feel you've got going on, it may just be time to think about updating and refurbishing a few aspects of the most popular room in the house.

Unlike a full refit or kitchen expansion, which can involve surveyors, designers, fitters, advisors a plethora of tradespeople all sending invoices left, right and centre, simply replacing your kitchen cupboard doors can make the world of difference to a room that's looking a bit on the old side – instantly.

Choosing cupboard doors that are made to measure and installed by expert fitters means that the stress is taken away. All you need to do is choose the type of door you'd like and the style you'd like it in. That's the fun part. After that, you just need to wait for no more than a week for your order to be created and then when all is ready, you can watch your kitchen transformation happen before your very eyes when expert fitters install and fit your order in just a day.

Specialist advice

If you'd rather not order from brochures without seeing the actual product and checking how it looks in the kitchen, you can arrange for a designer to come and visit, so you can view some samples first hand. Unlike the going-it-alone route that entailed hours trying to find a reputable kitchen designer from Yellow Pages, arranging to see a designer from a company that provides everything in-house – including specialist advice and expert fitting services – can make life a lot easier.

Size doesn't matter

Sourcing ready-made kitchen cupboard doors can seem to be more convenient initially, but in the long run you're actually making more work for yourself by having to find a size that happens to fit your kitchen units. Unless you fancy doing some additional DIY jobs yourself after the ready-made doors have been installed, choosing custom-made ones are a lot more convenient all round. Because they are made to measure and hand-crafted by specialist craftsmen, whatever the size of your kitchen units, they're sure to be a perfect fit.

Short lead times

Whilst an entire kitchen refit can take several weeks or months to complete, causing untold upheaval and stress on all the family, simply replacing your kitchen cupboard doors with beautifully crafted and expertly fitted replacements can be done in half the time. The finished result can make a world of difference to the look of your kitchen, whilst retaining the functional and useable parts intact. This makes it not only a cheaper, but a greener option too.

Most of the time spent creating your new kitchen replacements will be done away from your home, so the inconvenience to your family will be minimal. In total, you can expect a five-day turnaround, from the moment your order has been finalised to the day your kitchen is kitted out with your brand new kitchen door replacements.
